Just as soon as possible after a person has been bitten by a dog that is mad or supposed to be mad, the wound should be cauterized. The object of this is to destroy the poison of rabies at the place where it is infecting and entering the system. For this the usual chemicals are used or a concentrated solution of carbolic acid. Immediately after the bite, to save the wound is also recommended. A dog suspected of rabies should never be killed, however, until it firmly established that he has the disease. Not only is this humanly impossible unless this rule is observed that a written person can never be sure of his own sanity without an autopsy, that the 'demented' actually was rabid. The really mad animal shows unmistakable signs in the brain at autopsy.

A certain amount of fat is essential to the brain.

ly adds energy to the system by acting as a lubricator, and, in chemical combination with other substances, it actually aids digestion. Besides, many fats contain Vitamin A. The percentage of fat in a child's diet, estimated in calorie values (not weight or bulk), should be about 36 per cent, with only 15 per cent. of protein and 49 per cent. of carbohydrates.

Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, Dec. 2 (C.P. Cable).
The King, although now in his 70th year, is still—as he was 35 years ago—one of the six best shots in the land, declares Wentworth Duff in a book published today. "The King as a Sportsman."
Those who imagine because he is King his prowess is exaggerated are completely mistaken, says the author.
When the King goes shooting he is invariably accompanied by his private detective, Superintendent to protect His Majesty's person. He carries in the hollow of his hand a automatic clicker—each click registers a bird down. At the end of each day the King takes the clicker to the total and enters it in his game book.

Occasionally three-man play ability by the Belleville entry in the Kingston City Hockey League slanted themselves into a tie for first place in that sport with an 11-5 victory over the "Golden Bears" of the Kingston Gaiters last evening at the Jack Hurst Arena.

The Belleville team was not as fast during the second half as they were in the first, but they played with spirit and goals and so they were able to win the game.

"Jeff Theroald's got the devil's temper, for all he's so quiet reserved."

An interval of silence, broken by her feet striking the floor in a staccato, syncopated, and complex rhythm. The room was in mid-day light. A canary, perched with the host, gave a hissing chirp and relapsed into a coma.

A little group of four were suddenly quiet, each contemplating a pleasing picture of discord that was painted.

"I'm str!" Miss. Pratt finally said in a tone of dreamy enjoyment. "I'd certainly like to be like him at the Theroald house!"

Sent over twelve hundred unemployed into its goldfields
To work and prospect
On their own account.
The Minister of Mines of that Dominion
Says three hundred of them
Have made good.

They are working their own mines,
Have repaid the money advanced to them
And produced gold worth $25,000.
We advocated this idea many months ago
For our own mining fields
And we are glad to note
That the experiment is paying
In Australia.

While lower interest
Will cut down the revenue
Of those who have money,
At the same time
It will drive capital
Into industrial development
Which will reduce unemployment.

BOXING DAY DATES BACK TO EARLY TIMES IN ENGLAND, and is synonymous with St. Stephen's Day, commemorating the stoning to death of that Apostle. Boxing Day had its origin in a custom of Postmen and other public servants soliciting gifts (Christmas boxes) the day after Christmas and collecting the same, some writers claiming that this developed into more or less of a nuisance, but the custom gave its name to the holiday, and Boxing Day is a well observed

holiday in England:

THERE SEEMS TO BE QUITE A SENTIMENT TOWARD OBSERVING BOXING DAY AS A PUBLIC HOLIDAY in Canada this year, Kingston City Council passed a resolution declaring the day a public holiday and calling upon all citizens to observe it as such. Brockville is debating the question, Galt has decided to celebrate Boxing Day as a holiday, and a number of other places will no doubt follow suit. Belleville merchants are discussing the question, and opinions heard thus far have been favorable. The officers of the Retail Merchants' Association would be glad to get an expression of opinion from all the merchants on the subject so that united action can be taken if necessary. If the business men will convey their opinion on the subject to president John McIntosh, Secretary W. J. Doyle, or Russell Woodley the matter can be decided pronto.

A SHORTAGE OF CHRISTMAS TREES
FACES NEW YORK CITY. The first shipment of four thousand trees, spruce and balsam, from Nova Scotia and Quebec. The trees were mostly nine feet long and six or seven years old. Four thousand trees seem a lot but New York City requires many more, and the dealers anticipate greater demand this year than last, while conditions in Nova Scotia are not favorable to a large Christmas tree crop, mainly on account of excessive snow falls and excessive ice. The price at present holds steady at $3.00 per 100 feet. Look for the old New York firm believes in Santa Claus.

A STREAM OF GOLD FLOWING INTO NEW YORK CITY FROM EUROPE would seem to indicate the belief that the dogs of war are prepared to bite as well as bark. In 1914, 1915 and 1916, the total value of gold flowing from France, Germany and Italy into New York City seems to be at boiling point most of the time and ready to fizzle at the drop of the hat. If Europe would only spend as much time and energy in the study of peace as it does in war there would be much less poverty and misery among the people. The Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man has still a long way to go before it becomes the dominate desire of all nations.

plon at the Chicago Live Stock Show brought three dollars a pound on the auction block, a total of $3,150, together with $750 cash award, all of which certainly brought joy to the heart of the young Iowa farmer.

The top price for champion steers at Chicago was in 1929 when the price bid was $3.25 per pound, an expensive chunk of beef to put on the table. The lad plans to spend part of the money improving his father's 190 acre farm, and part in paying physicians who treated his mother before she died last summer. Lastly he plans to enter Iowa State College.

D. M. DeLoe, a Belleville man, has been appointed by the Interstate Commerce Commissioners of To-day by the Whitney government. I will please accept the position. I am a native of Belleville. Many citizens will remember Mr. DeLoe when in his boyhood he was a member of the Belleville High School. It was at that time never-to-be-forgotten when a young man named Alex. Burdon, a native of Belleville, was elected to the position of president of the advancement of foreigners and that they are now the same. Long may Mr. DeLoe enjoy the confidence of his fellow-citizens.

The company has been asked to do this. The company would give a night as such as the service has justified the service. The company has been arrived at and they are looking for the increased action.

SCAMPERING QUINS GIVE ACTORS DIFFICULTIES.

Movies men engaged in filming "The Country Doctor" at the Queen's hospital at Chatham, Ont., have gone into raptures over the dramatic principles and the ability of the five famos, stars to act. Originally it was planned to show only a few incidental scenes of the patients, but so appealing are they that the script has been twice changed to incorporate more shots of the actor and actresses have their trouble with the scampering little children who are just learning to walk and in the above picture, Miss Dorothy Fagan, who plays the part of a dead Cross nurse and Jean Harlow, who stands the country doctor, are having difficulty rounding up the children.

TREATY PRAISED BY PRESIDENT

Agriculture Actually Gains By Trade Pact With Canada, Claimed

Chicago, Dec. 6.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today defended the Canadian trade treaty, declaring the American Farm Federation, he said: "Agriculture, far from being eneffed by this agreement, as some have told you, actually gains from it." "Just as I am confident," he said, "that the great masses of my people are fair-minded, so I am sure the great majority of American farmers will be fair in their judgment of the new treaty." "If the majority however should happen to be right, you have every assurance Canada and the United States will join in correcting one another's mistakes. The new deal has succeeded," he asserted. "Farm income has increased nearly $100,000,000 in the past two and a half years."

Science Reveals Increase in Tuberculosis Attacks the death-rate from tuberculosis has decreased in the past few years, but the disease is still a major cause of death. The latest statistics show that the number of deaths from tuberculosis has decreased by 10 per cent in the past five years. This is due to the fact that the disease is now more easily treated than it was in the past. The use of antibiotics and other modern medical treatments has made a great difference in the outcome of the disease. However, it is still important to be aware of the signs and symptoms of tuberculosis, and to seek medical attention if they appear. The disease can be spread through the air, so it is important to avoid close contact with someone who has the disease. It is also important to maintain good hygiene and to eat a healthy diet to help prevent the disease.

MONEY IN PEAS

Hard Work and Late Hours
Pay Active Man on 50
Acres Farm

"Farming in Hastings County can be made a paying proposition. Any man with fifty acres, if he wants to put his mind to the job, should be able to clear and bank from $800 to $1,000 a year, and still have a farm while he does it," declared one of the country's newest farmers, who arrived here last year to make this county his home, rented a farm of fifty acres north of the city and is now enjoying the fruits of his first year's labor.

"Any man who says there isn't any money in farming just isn't working it right," declared the owner.

Tired of working for others all his life, the local farmer, who has had living experience at mixed farming in various counties of England, arrived in Canada with the determination of taking up farming on a bigger scale. All alone he settled down on the rented fifty-acre some distance north of Belleville. Starting at scratch, with a few chickens, a cow or two, and handicapped by the lack of machinery, the new resident all present has managed to clear up a profit of $750.00. He has saved money and a well-stocked pigsty. From the result of his sale of eggs and milk, the new resident all present has managed to clear up a profit of $750.00. He has saved money and a well-stocked pigsty.

"Don't use my name," he requested today. "Because it won't do you good to tell all this, but the facts are there for you to see if you want to."

Farming in Canada is different from the methods used in the British Isles, it was stated. There every available inch of space must be used and the average British farmer needs about three acres to work it. In Canada a more diversified choice of crops is offered and with a "quicker" growing season, better profits are the rule. In England, however the land is made to produce about twice as much as that down and grown here.

Closer Relations With Germany Sought; Sir Eric Phipps to Meet Hitler.

Anglo-Germanic Problems Faced; Air Pact Talks

Meeting of Phipps With Hitler Follows Closely On Visit of French Ambassador to Der Fuhrer at Berlin

BRITISH WHITE PAPER ISSUED

Four Steps on Peace Settlement of Italo-Ethiopian War are Considered Possible by London Circles

By BEN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
London, Dec. 14.—(AP)—A well-informed source said today Great Britain has moved to calibrate close relations with Adolf Hitler's Germany.

The move was not explained in official quarters. It came after six months of European turmoil over Italian aggression.

Sir Eric Phipps, British Ambassador to Germany, was assigned to take the initiative in Berlin, conferring with Hitler in a general discussion of an Anglo-German problem.

Sir Eric's move followed closely on Hitler's reception of the French Ambassador.

The news gave rise to various conjectures including reports Great Britain was taking the initiative to negotiate a four-power aviation pact.

SIR ERIC PHIPPS VISIT
There were speculations Sir Phipps was linked to direct references were by Sir Samuel Hoare, Foreign Secretary, to Anglo-German problems in his speech of Dec. 6.

At that time Sir Samuel said while the Italo-Ethiopian war continues, Italy was to be gained by reuniting the British people ready to make any agreement which offered itself for an aviation pact and the reduction of air armaments which he claimed were more urgently needed than ever.

HUBBUB OF PROTEST
The hubbub of protest against the government for its Italo-Ethiopian peace formula rose louder today with the publication of a "white paper" showing the foreign secretary instructed the British Minister to Ethiopia, Sir Sydney Hartman, to press Emperor Haile Selassie urgently for a favorable consideration of the plan and "on no account" to reject it.

The telegram, sent Dec. 10, said: "You should use your utmost influence to induce the Emperor to give careful and favorable consideration to these proposals and on no account lightly to reject them."

"On the contrary, I feel sure you will give further proof of his statesmanship in realizing the advantage and opportunity for negotiation which they afford and will avail himself of them."

Officials stressed the white paper also presented Anthony Eden's speech in Geneva Dec. 12 when he announced the British would not complain if the League of Nations did not act against Italy.

FOUR COURSES
Authoritative quarters said today four courses lay open to the League Council for the disposition of the plan:

1. It could reject it as unacceptable and unreasonable.
2. It could reject it as coming within the League's competence and make whatever alterations are necessary.
3. It could refer the whole matter to the assembly, as requested by Ethiopia.

TURKISH PRISON REFORM
Turkey is trying an experiment in prison reform by which it is hoped to lead to a more humane treatment of prisoners. Most of these men are serving terms of fifteen years or more.

They are to be placed on land in a small island of Imrali in the Sea of Marmara. Afterwards will be granted them and these they are to be allowed to work for their own individual profit. Some will become fishermen. They cannot escape as they are under guard and the island is sufficiently far out to prevent flight.

The change in their lives will be very great. Turkish customs usually enable and quarrel in common cells.

In this age of social reform the back to the land scheme seems to be favored in many minds as the ideal to give society back has made itself an enemy of society, and there can be no doubt that it is a useful citizen.

It is going farther than most countries in that it is also seen a chance of the redemption of the murderer class. What was the exact nature of the crimes which these men received prison sentences is not revealed. But in other lands there is a type of criminal man made a public nuisance, and to be a perpetual menace to society if not put out of the way. Whether that class can be redeemed to become a citizen is a common problem.

But leaving out the question of the crime for which these men were sentenced, the efforts of the Turkish government to deal with the problem of penology is of interest.

THE DETECTIVE APPEALS

Detection of crime has always had an appeal to many persons. It has made many great detectives and police investigators. The great detective of the world is the man who often fills rather a comic role as his weak points are carried to the screen and then broadcast to the famphibious of his world.

The Royal Canadian Mounted is a unit which has thrilled the world of men, many of whom would like to carry on the work of investigation without some of the more serious and more serious of the world.

Now the G-men class of the United States of whom there are 700 men in the United States is a unit which has thrilled the world of men, many of whom would like to carry on the work of investigation without some of the more serious and more serious of the world.

THE STARS THAT SHINE AT NIGHT
Are but made bright by darkness. Most of gold lies above my door. How much is mine? By love divine.

Why be by fear distraught?
By darkness done—
Instead of distant stars
Will shine life's sun!

Reflections On Yuletide Spirit

WHAT GOES ON IN THE MIND OF A CHRISTMAS-GIFT SHOPPING HOUSEWIFE BETWEEN STOPS?

"Schnapf! Wedder, mahdow. How's abait some nuts now, all's that."

After all, the stores do look at the trouble and expense of advertising suggestions for every possible gift list problem, and they spend months getting the very things people want most at prices low enough to make it possible for everybody to buy more.

Of course there's no use denying it just wouldn't be Christmas if there wasn't all in with the crowds and look at the windows and see what's new. But it's so something for each one to join in the Christmas merriment. At least there would be one advantage; you could add up the prices and know whether you give your husband's money more than it's her custom to (give).

"Yes, man, they're two a dime. These frosty Santa Claus on snow frosts. They're... oh! you'll take two dozen? I always get Christmas do something 'pecul, don't you think?"

Produce Prices on Montreal Market

Montreal, Dec. 30.—Butter prices were firm here at the week-end. Friday's advances to a new high the year was held intact. Offers were scarce, holders being inclined to sell sparingly, awaiting reaction to the lowering of milk and cream duties by the U. S. on January 1 prescribed in the new treaty arrangement. Cheese also advanced during the week. Eggs were

"I was swift, steady fingers. A strange, unbecomable shiver passed through her. To get home to Killen . . . to the cottage . . . that wasn't Harvey sprawled over the table there . . . It was Larry . . . Killen was home in bed, it was all right! I don't want here - don't be such a fool."

"What's crying, without noise," Mrs. Corwin, arguing throatily and incessantly with the other boys who were visiting the Priests' club.

WEDDING WILL NOT FOLLOW SUICIDE

Hayden chose the gift of Josephine's attitude. "I suddenly changed from being a quiet, pleasant, friendly, and successful business woman to a woman who declared it was simply 'may the best woman win.'"

"We'll get married," she told them.

Today she said:

"He took me around the world, and the only present he gave me was a box of candy."

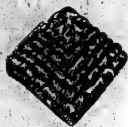

"I told him I could never see him again. I got a sister and I wouldn't break up my home."

Hayden's story was a war of wits.

Twenty-Five Police Constables Are Suspended During

Officer Named in 'Gang' Shifted Off Beat Once In 3 Years Says Mitchell

ERG T. MADE TRANSFERS
Sergeant Requests List of Rewards Paid by Bankers

Forcino, Dec. 31.—(CP)—The police Commission today suspended the police officers against whom allegations of participation in a theft ring are being heard by a Royal Commission.

The suspensions were announced after the outcome of the Royal Commission inquiry and the Police Board stated if the men are convicted they will be dismissed.

The officers, who were suspended yesterday afternoon, are charged to the counter, pointed at someone's pocket and pulled out a roll of binder twine. "That's all," he requested, after a brief pause.

"Don't be 'em. I'll just carry them under my arm," he added, and an uproar.

From a frayed sack purse, after careful counting of coins the sale was completed.

The board announced its decision as made after Chief D. C. Draper and the board rejected the suspension of policemen.

"The suspension is considered necessary in view of the testimony already given at the public inquiry and is an interim measure," a spokesman said after the meeting ended.

"If and when any of the officers concerned are exonerated the suspensions will be lifted as of this date," he added.

This suspension of men, whose names are under a cloud will inform the public that all men now on city are absolutely free from any suspicion.

All of the suspended men against whom charges have been made will be given every opportunity of securing these charges.

The men suspended are: Third Regiment, Sam. Wood, con-hand, Worden's traffic was halted by the Sapping fall. Quickly the turbine was recovered almost underneath the wheels of a stalled car. Then, retracing his steps, he secured his remaining purchases and stalked off into the passing crowd.

Traffic on Front Street resumed both pedestrian and motor.

FIRE DAMAGES SWITCHES SHANTY NEAR STATION

Said to have been caused by a overheated stove, a small blaze which broke out in a switch shanty west of the Canadian National Railroad station shortly before a 6 o'clock last evening caused a slight amount of damage before being extinguished.

The duty-book showed Constable Walker, one of those named by the "gang" as a member of the "gang" had been absent from duty for three days. Inspector Mitchell said he thought the transfer would prove one Constables Flood and Edmunds had also been charged with being among those convicted of shop-breaking in 1933. Edmunds, the shop revealed, was shifted to a new boat the night he was caught at a shoe store and arrested, March 1935.

Inspector Mitchell said he thought the handwriting noting transfer of food was that of Sgt. Sam Boyd, one of the men named by Wait, who said he had seen the man in the dumps where they manage to survive during the winters, follow the fishermen closely, waiting until small catches have been thrown over the ice and then swoop to the prey. "They're so hungry they'll eat out of your hands," he said. "I've seen them come with an arm to chop help in the ice they flop along behind as complained one fisherman today."
